

BLOW IS STRUCK AT FARM ACT

The latest discovery of science indicates that the brain of a sleeping person is active and extremely sensitive. For example, electric waves are caused by sounds too light to awaken the sleeper, such as coughing, rustling paper, or low conversation. The investigators report that the same sounds do not cause the waves when the individual is awake. This will probably point the way for some citizens to become useful. Awake they do not seem to suffer any kind of electric waves in the brain. Possibly by putting them to sleep, the cortex might work.

The fair, fat and forty will prefer not to believe Miss Zelma O'Neal, talented lady who teaches half of Hollywood how to preserve its snake-like charm of figure by means of systematic dancing, when she asserts that the best and most graceful form of physical exercise for women eager for health and straight lines is scrubbing floors in the manner that prevailed before long-handled mops lifted woman off her knees. Obesity is anathema to the modern woman, but scrubbing in the old fashioned way is declassé.

These facts and figures cannot, however, be brought to the attention of wives and daughters with expensive reducing tastes by husbands and fathers with complete impunity. Some female is bound to come back with the jarring rejoinder that golf as an exercise is a poor substitute for hoeing and mowing.

Even the children of the lively period who seek to find wholesome and necessary physical exercise in expensively organized games find at best a doubtful substitute for the benefits which our grandfathers as youths found in keeping a wood box, going to the spring house with yoke and buckets and doing the other family chores. Men, women and children might be brought to a reversion to these homely calisthenics if they would be made the excuses for buying chic costumes, cotly tools and intriguing toys.

Silas Strawn, the prominent Chicago lawyer, is worried about what he calls the "experiments" of the government. He thinks these adventures in the effort to improve the happiness of mankind are slowing down business and preventing a return to "true normalcy."

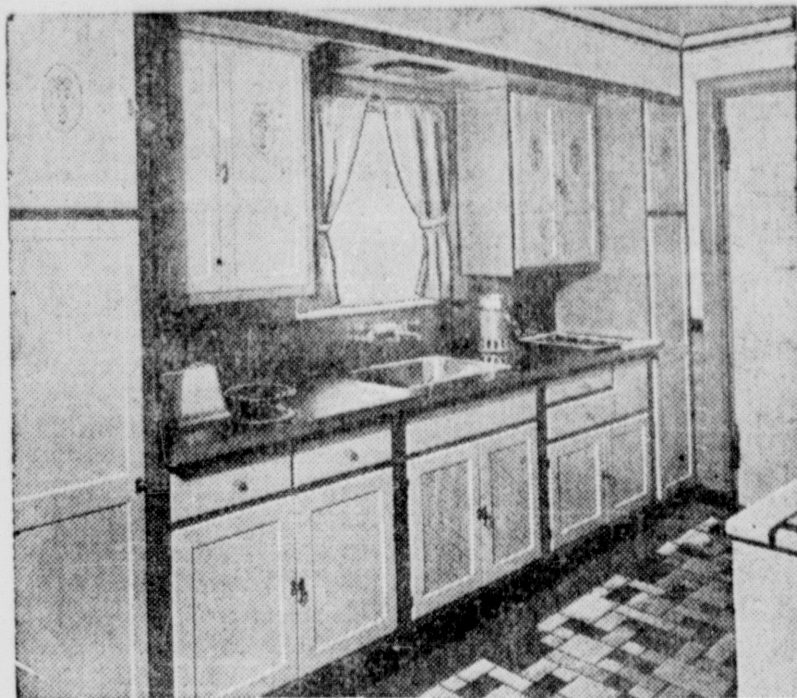

He says: "I am convinced that if we carried on in a way which has always been consistent with our history and had applied ourselves persistently and courageously to working out of the depression, we would now be well on the way to a normal condition." That is the viewpoint of conservative business and Mr. Strawn, a former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, is well qualified to speak for it.

Mr. Strawn says, "the condition of our people is better than that of any other country," which of course, is a great help to a man out of a job and a family in need on his hands, but Mr. Strawn admits that the condition of our people "is not what we would wish it to be." That's what experiments are trying to do, make the condition better.

Then Mr. Strawn proceeds. He sees evidence of prosperity and believes, "if our business men and industrialists were let alone they could not only work out their own destiny, but they would establish more friendly and co-operative relations with labor." The industrialists have always looked out for their own destiny—that's what caused the 1929 crash, they were too selfish and greedy in pursuing that particular aim.

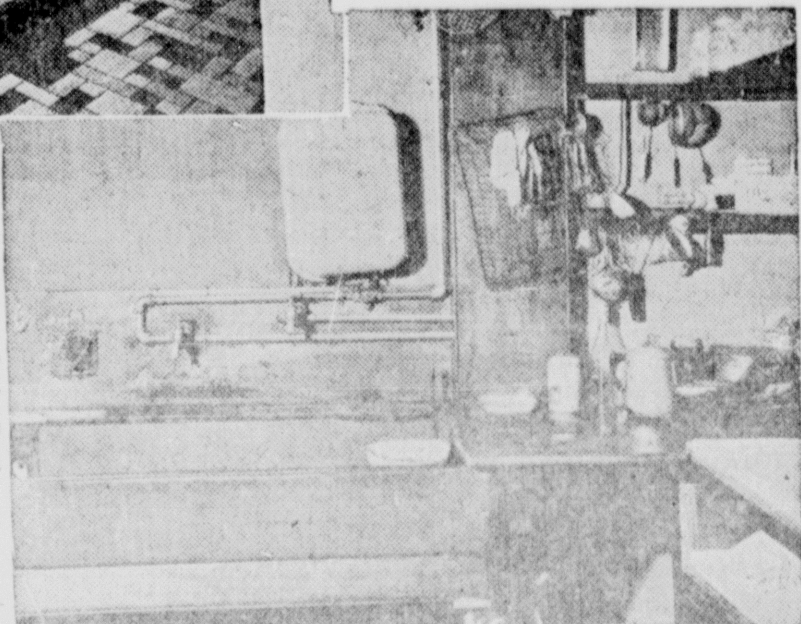

There are others that agree with Mr. Strawn. They think government should let the big financiers and industrialists run the country their way,

Modern Kitchens Possible Under Federal Housing Act

A modern kitchen takes place along with any other important necessity in the new home of today. Under the terms of the housing act money is now available for these improvements and thousands of American homes are having modern kitchens. Even the White House kitchen has recently undergone radical changes to make it modern.

Interior as well as exterior improvements are made possible by the housing act now bringing private capital to the rescue of home owners who need improvements such as are shown in this illustration. Builders and material dealers believe great developments are in the future.

NEGRO BOY HELD AFTER ATTACK ATTEMPT FRIDAY

Quannah Brown, 15 year old negro boy, was still being held by Milam county officers on a charge of attacking a 13 year old white girl in the Briary community late Friday.

Sheriff R. M. Kennedy spirited the negro away from Cameron Saturday morning. The sheriff did not reveal where he had taken the boy. It was explained at the office of the Sheriff that the negro had attempted to attack the girl as she was returning home in the twilight from a visit to a neighboring farm.

Screaming as the negro sought to catch her, the attacker was frightened away. Reporting the attempt of the negro, the girl's father spread the alarm. The negro was arrested that night at a church for negroes in the community.

The officers were able to identify the boy by descriptions given of his clothing by the girl.

regardless of social injustice, want and distress. These people oppose government aid in many ways, whenever the government interference is directed towards the benefit of the great mass of people.

If the people of this nation have any sense at all, they are opposed to returning the management of its economic affairs over to the same class of magnates who piloted it to the 1929 crash. They want the government to profit by the experience of the past five or six years, to regulate, supervise, and control, as far as necessary, to eliminate the abuses of the past and prevent another similar catastrophe in the future.

COURT HOLDS IT VOID; MAY DIE

The federal farm act under which farmers have been drawing rental checks was believed to be doomed following a decision in Massachusetts high court holding against the processing tax.

The billion dollar farm bubble was heading straight for pricking believed to be in store when the Supreme Court gets a lick at it. The AAA will continue the program. It was said the Supreme Court might rule on the question in early fall.

Fear that the farm act would soon lie dead with the blue eagle caused national concern. Stimulation of commodity prices was the outstanding achievement of the act. Retiring acreage from production for which the government paid brought many millions to farmers.

NOTED PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER COMING

Dr. P. B. Hill of San Antonio, noted Presbyterian minister, will preach at First Presbyterian Church in Cameron this fall, it was announced by Rev. O. C. Acree, pastor who is arranging details for the coming revival.

It is planned to hold the revival in early September.

Dr. Hill is known to thousands throughout America because of his radio audience. He is pastor of the largest Presbyterian church in the South and a renowned Bible student. His lectures have been widely celebrated as among the more important modern day contributions to contemporary religious thought. His theology is fundamentally sound and his influence is large among Presbyterians throughout America.

Dr. Hill, in his relationship to the people of San Antonio, is commensurate with the position of Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, now a world citizen with a three year leave of absence, a loan to other lands in the most impressive missionary effort of all times.

Dr. Hill has the distinction of membership in the famous Texas Rangers, although his connection with this historic Texas body of men is solely in the capacity of a citizen who has earned confidence and holds their esteem. These rough and ready, straight shooting Texans have found in Dr. Hill that other side of human character to which all men turn. For years he was chaplain of the Texas Sheriff's Association and is perhaps better known to Texas peace officers than any other man in or out of the ministry.

Friends like to tell how Dr. Hill gains and keeps the esteem of his fellows. They know of his great personal successes in influencing the lives of others and are confident that any community is fortunate to hear him tell the story of a great human experience.

The Chamber of Commerce is busy planning for the proposed County Fair that they are sponsoring to be held October 10, 11 and 12.

In order to assist the community committeemen in measuring the growing cotton on your farm and also the acreage rented to the Secretary of Agriculture, the producer should designate by stakes and have the rented acres measured. The rented acres should represent in productivity, a fair average of the cotton land on the farm. By having the rented acres staked off, the committeemen can finish the job of measuring the rented cotton acreage and the growing cotton land. Sign your certificate of compliance and get the second rental payments coming just as soon as possible.

Yours very truly,
Geo. Banzhaf, County Agt.,
Milam County, Texas.

JOHN MAXWELL TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

John Maxwell of Waco will be a candidate for Congress to succeed O. H. Cross who has announced his retirement in January, 1937, when his present term expires.

Mr. Maxwell opposed Mr. Cross in 1928 and lost by a small margin. Since that time Milam county has been placed in the 11th district formerly served by Tom Connoley, now in the Senate.

Mrs. Maxwell was a visitor in Cameron last Saturday and has instructed the Herald to be mailed to her address in Waco.

OLD RECEIPT SHOWS PAYMENT OF SUBSCRIPTION IN APRIL 1861

Receipt for a subscription paid to the Cameron Sentinel in 1861 has been presented to the Herald by Alex Martin of Waco.

The old receipt came from among the papers of the late Dr. E. A. Martin, pioneer physician who began practice in Cameron in the early forties. He is Buried in Oak Hill Cemetery. The family were prominent early residents of Cameron.

Mr. Martin, now living in Waco, was formerly at Aransas Pass. He has been interested for years in collecting old documents and relics. Among the effects of his late father, Dr. E. A. Martin, are found some rare documents. They are being preserved and will be placed on display at some convenient place during the Centennial year of 1936.

The receipt now at the Herald office is a typical bit of printing of that date. In the left foreground of the receipt which is encased in an elaborate border is a picture printed from a wood engraving. It represents a printer standing before an old fashioned type case setting type by hand. Above in same engraving is shown an old Washington hand press widely in use in country plants as late as 40 years ago.

The receipt is dated April 15, 1861 and issued to Dr. E. A. Martin. It is signed by the late John A. Moore who was, according to the document either editor or business manager for the Centinel. Subscription rates have come down a bit since those days. Dr. Martin paid $4 for two copies of the Sentinel for 9 months.

On the receipt is listed a notice of a wagon sale for two weeks at $1.50. Mr. Alex Martin said this wagon was driven to Milam County by the late Dr. A. E. Martin, his father, from his native state. Having no further use for the old hickory vehicle he advertised and sold it in the spring of 1861.

The Herald is grateful to Mr. Martin for this historic document which has been framed for careful preservation in the office of the publishers.

NO REDUCTION IN GAS RATES COMING

Consumers of natural gas served by the Lone Star Gas Company cannot receive at this time the eight-cent rate reduction ordered against the Company by the Railroad Commission and recently sustained by the Austin Court of Civil Appeals, according to a telegram from L. B. Denning, president of the company, sent last week to the mayor of this city.

The telegram explained that until the case had reached the highest courts, the recent decision is inoperative, and that until company property in each city involved had been evaluated and a rate case carried through various hearings and courts there would be no reduction of burner tip rates. Even though higher courts sustain the gas rate reduction it cannot be passed on without each city going through a rate case, according to attorneys.

Full text of Mr. Denning's telegram follows:

"In our opinion there is a general misapprehension concerning the holding of the Austin Court of Civil Appeals in the Lone Star rate case and its effect upon the rates of the Lone Star Gas Company and the distributing companies to which it supplies gas.

"One erroneous conclusion is that the eight-cent per thousand cubic feet reduction ordered in the gate rate will necessarily result in a similar reduction in burner tip rates. As a matter of law and fact, there can be no determination of rates in any of the distributing companies until the property and business in each town has been evaluated and all of the processes of rate making have been gone through as provided by law, including hearings before the railroad commission and review of the Commission's order by the courts.

We have the greatest deference for the opinion of any court of this state, but under the laws of the state the opinion of the Court of Civil Appeals is not final; and believing as we do that the preservation of the company's property and of the public service which it has undertaken to render demands that this case be prosecuted to the higher courts for the purpose of having the issues ultimately submitted and determined, our attorneys are now in the process of preparing the necessary proceedings looking to this end. While the appeal is being prosecuted to the Supreme Court, the judgment of the Court of Civil Appeals is suspended and inoperative."

IN SHORT—

The Wimbledon tennis championships, the foremost tennis tournaments of the world, crowned the following as titleholders this year:

Men's Singles—Fred Perry, Great Britain (Retained title).

Women's Singles—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, United States.

Men's Doubles—Jack Crawford and Adrian Quist, Australia.

Women's Doubles—Miss Fredia James and Miss Katherine Stammers, Great Britain.

Mixed Doubles—Perry and Miss Dorothy Round Great Britain.

With the championships in three divisions, Great Britain played the part of the selfish host, through Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and the Crawford-Quist combination managed to take two of the five titles at stake. Perry was the only repeater and the only participant to have a top claim to two fields of competition. With Dorothy Round, the de-throned Women's Singles champ, he added the Mixed Doubles title to his Singles laurels.

America's surprise of the tournaments was 19 year old Donald Budge, rangy California youth, who lost the right to play Perry in the finals of the men's singles only after a hard fought battle with Gottfried Von Cramm, Germany's star, who was seeded No. 2 behind Perry. Budge had won his way into the semi-finals by virtue of a stirring victory over H. W. (Bunny) Austin, England's No. 2 player. Budge outlasted all of the American entrants, including Sidney Wood, Johnny Van Ryn, Wilmer Allison, and Gene Mako.

Mrs. Moody completing a sensational comeback after her year's absence from major competition was extended to the limit in defeating Helen Jacobs, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5. The latter twice had match point on Mrs. Moody, but was not able to put across the decisive point. It was the first meeting between the two since the Forest Hills finals in 1933 when Mrs. Moody was forced to leave the court because of back injury with Miss Jacobs in the lead. The match was forfeited to the latter. The eyes of the tennis world will be pointing to this year's Forest Hills meeting when the two, who are to be seeded one, two, are expected to meet in the finals for their "grudge match."

Will America's Davis Cup team be able to get by Germany to the challenge round with Great Britain? Although at this writing the full results of the Germany-Czechoslovakia battle are not available, it is not expected that Germany will be America's opponent in the interzone finals. Donald Budge's showing in the above mentioned Wimbledon tournament rates him a place in the singles department, whether Capt. Wear decides to give it to him or not. Budge outlasted both Allison and Wood, and his good showing against Austin and Von Cramm clearly indicates his present standing in the tennis world. Even should Von Cramm manage to take both single matches from America, Allison and Budge (or Wood) stand an excellent chance of taking their matches over the other German singles entrant. The doubles should go to the smooth working Allison-Van Ryan combination. An upset anywhere along the line, however, would virtually concede the match to Germany.

Two track stars of the Negro race are providing the sporting world at present with a series of unusual exhibitions on the cinder path. No sooner had Jesse Owens, Ohio State's star established himself as one of the greatest all round track performers of all time than Eulace Peacock Temple's contribution, defeated Owens in a 100-meter dash and the broad jump at the N. A. U. U. meet. These two are expected to provide the United States with excellent chances in coming Olympics for titles in the dashes, hurdles, and broad jump.

Ralph Flanagan, Miami, reached a goal he had been aiming at for two years as he defeated Jack Medica, Seattle, in the mile feature at the N. A. A. U. outdoor swimming meet. Flanagan allowed Medica to set an early pace in the Detroit Boat Club pool, but had more reserve than Medica, and defeated him by ten lengths. The final spurt enabled Flanagan to lower Arne Borg's accepted world mark of 21:00.6 by a fifth of a second.

This year's All Star game is a thing of the past, and from now on until the world series the followers of the junior circuit will have no argument when they defend their loop as the superior one of the season. The game this year, played in Cleveland, ended in a 4 to 1 victory for the American Leaguers in the best of the battles since the contest was inaugurated in 1933 at the Chicago Fair. The Cochrane-led men combined a little hitting by Jimmy Foxx and Rollie Hemley with the strong pitching of Lefty Gomez and Mel Harder to vanquish the Frischmen.

Fox put the younger loop boys ahead in the first inning with a homer into the left field stands 340 feet away with Lou Gehrig on base. In the second inning with one down Rollie Hemley bounced one off the wall in the left for a triple and scored after Cronin had fled to Berger. Then, in the fifth, the winners scored their final run. With two out the Americans filled the bases and again Jimmy Foxx provided the necessary punch, this time with a hot single that scored Vosmik. Bill Terry drove in the National's only run with a single off Gomez in the fourth.

Twinkles of the All Star Game—Lefty Gomez had the distinction of starting off the pitching for the American Leaguers the third consecutive year. . . . Did we feel good, after stoutly defending Hemley when he was left off in the original selections, when he poled that triple in the second! . . . Al Simmons crossed us up. . . . We were for either Haas or Stone instead of the .260 hitting Al, but he did get two blows. . . . Mel Harder continued his reputation held over from last year—that of being the steadiest pitcher to show his wares. . . . Lou Gehrig has yet to get a hit in the classic games, and he has been in all three. . . . Both managers withdrew themselves from the starting line-up at the last minute. . . . The crowd though large, did not come up to the expected 85,000 by some 15,000. . . . The American players went into the battle far outclassed as to batting averages, but doubled the number of four hits that their rivals gathered off Gomez and Harder. . . . The margin of victory for the winners was three runs, one more than in each of the two previous battles. . . . Schumacher's best work was his fanning of heavy hitting Bob Johnson with three on and two out in the fifth. . . . Terry's long fly in his first appearance would have been an honor in most parks. . . . So would Hemley's triple. . . . The Cleveland fans took Jimmy Fox and cheered him nearly as much as the home boys, Vosmik and Harder. . . . Dean was greeted with catcalls, jeers and boos with some cheers mixed in.

On the Court—The Fred Perrys have a monopoly on British titles. . . . Fred has the all England tennis title and Alfred the open golf crown. . . . Immediately following the Wimbledon finals, an organization in Los Angeles offered Mrs. Moody and Miss Jacobs $25,000 to turn pro together and play just one match—in Los Angeles. . . . The middle name of Dwight T. Davis, donor of the Davis Cup is Tilden. . . . He belongs to the tennis clubs in three cities. . . . The nub on the amputated finger of Big Bill Tilden is worrying his playing and the former champ is thinking of quitting competition. . . . The French are in favor of only three set matches in Davis Cup play. . . . Maybe the French can't take it, as there have been no similar suggestions elsewhere.

Hither and Yon—Manager Rogers Hornsby of the Browns, may insert himself in the line-up at third base. . . . No doubt he figures that he'll drive in more runs than he will let in. . . . The opinion current in New York is that Max Baer's manager, Anell Hoffman, pulled a dumb one when he failed to fix it so that Braddock would give Baer first chance at the title, should Jimmy win. . . . And now it is doubtful just when Baer will get another shot at the crown. . . . The Irish are now the tops in boxing and wrestling worlds with Danny O'Mahoney and Braddock. . . . Maybe Notre Dame can help in the fall. . . . Jimmy Foxx is being soured on by the fans in Philadelphia in favor of Bob Johnson. . . . Maybe those Cleveland fans can persuade the Indians to get him for the third base spot. . . . Rumors of his current sale are current everywhere.

A cleansing laxative—purely vegetable Black-Draught—is the first thought of thousands of men and women who have found that by restoring the downward movement of the bowels many disagreeable symptoms of constipation promptly can be relieved. . . . Mr. J. P. Mahaffey, of Clinton, S. C., writes: "I have found that Black-Draught is very effective in the cleansing of the system. When affected by the dull headache, the drowsiness and lassitude caused by constipation, I take Black-Draught."

The telephone goal of Europe is JUST A GOOD JOB here

The fast, clear, far-reaching telephone service of America has never been equalled by European nations. Differences in equipment, methods and policies have barred the way to such service among the many countries there.

In America, your telephone service has over-leaped state and regional lines. Here there are no telephone boundaries. Your telephone is "first cousin" to each of 13 million other Bell telephones here. It is designed and manufactured to meet uniform operating standards.

Team-work Every Bell telephone line, local and long distance, is built to conform to uniform tests of clarity and volume in carrying your voice.

Every Bell telephone operator, whether in New York, in San Francisco, or in the thousands of towns and cities between, is trained to use the same methods . . . the same team-work in operating the vast national communications network.

Organization That these things are true is due largely to the Bell System form of organization.

American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the parent company, studies and standardizes better and more economical methods, apparatus and materials for the 24 operating companies of the System. Bell Laboratories carries on the research work. Western Electric manufactures, purchases and distributes.

Without this organization behind them, the Southwestern Bell men and women here who give your telephone service could not do their job so well. For many years it has materially helped us, as one of the group of operating companies, in holding the cost of good telephone service low to the user.

Washington News For Milam County Farmers

From Cameron Herald's Washington Bureau

POINTS TO PROSPERITY.

BAN ON PROCESS TAXES.

GET ELECTRICITY.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

The experience of the farm equipment industry points the way to prosperity for almost industrial concerns. When the farmers of the nation quit looking for the simple reason that they are broke every manufacturer in the nation felt the effect. Moreover, stockholders, bankers and distributors felt it as well.

Now, with agriculture receiving a little more than during the depression, it is beginning to pick up and the farm equipment people are enjoying their best business for the past five years. According to their industry, however, farmers must buy equipment if they intend to farm, but the major point is that they will buy other manufactured articles as soon as they can. This will make business better and create employment.

Processors of principal farm products are on a nation-wide strike against the processing taxes, questioning their constitutionality and making evident plans to get the money back if they can.

Hundreds of temporary injunctions, restraining the collection of the tax, have been issued and more than $1,000,000 paid into a trustee under court orders, awaiting adjudication of the legal question. In Congress a move to bar all suits to recover processing taxes is planned, the argument being that the processors have passed the tax along and are not entitled to it, if it should be refunded.

Farmers generally are taking the matter calmly, although the entire sugar program of the present administration rests upon the processing taxes. The general idea is that these taxes are just as legal as the tariff, but no one can tell what the courts might do. It is just about how what the President and about opinions in regard to the coal bill. This can get hot but thousands of differing legal opinions on the constitutionality of almost anything.

Farmers of this country should not envision the prospect of rural electrification. While the national administration is paying the way for action we know of very few instances where new lines are being built and in some states authorities are not moving very rapidly to put the program into effect.

Anyhow it is important that electricity be brought to our farms and that power be offered them at reasonable rates. No one can imagine the full revolutionary effect of power upon farming operations, even though the average farm housewife can tell you how much easier her work would be if she had the advantages of electricity in her home.

While it is not the plan or purpose of this column to argue for or against the AAA or to take up the cudgels for those advocating changes in its methods or the law under which it operates, we would advise farmers not to make up their minds too hastily upon any issue.

The program that works today might not be good tomorrow. The man who has the interest of the farmer at heart may not like the present set-up and may be honestly trying to improve things. All that the average farmer can do is to study the question for himself and use his own judgment, plus the acid-proof test of the condition of the pocket-book.

OIL COVERS SURF

Lewes, Delaware.—A thick coating of crude oil which covered the beach and extended out a mile and a half prevented thousands of people from taking a dip in the ocean. The oil is believed to be from the liner Mohawk which recently burned off the coast of New Jersey.

SEES HIS SON DIE

St. John, N.H.—Frank Perier, a trapper saw his sick son die in his canoe after he had made a heroic effort to paddle him to a hospital. Blood poisoning developed from an axe wound, and the father paddled his canoe sixty miles across gale-swept lakes without stopping for sleep for three days and nights. Then a storm stopped his progress, and while waiting for the gale to subside, his boy died.

For Bad Feeling Due to Constipation

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lefe, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Theodor's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

Summary: 2BH: Smith, Brooks, Ingram, Honeycutt; Struck out by Jackson 4, Ingram 11; BOB Jackson Schottie 1, Ingram 1. Date July 14, played at Jarrell; Umpires Hall and Arnold; Scorer Thompson; Time 1:45.

The Cameron Comets journeyed to Jarrell Sunday with eleven of their eighteen players and dropped a game to the Jarrell Cardinals seven to three. With this setback the Comets are now playing .500 per cent baseball having won two and lost two.

The game at Jarrell was won and lost in the initial inning. By this is meant that fielding errors, coupled with mental lapses, were responsible for the scoring of six Cardinal runs.

To begin with, Douglas Williams led off for the Comets with a hit. Jackson, next up, was safe at first on an infield hit ball when the base umpire Arnold disapproved of Honeycutt's footwork at first base. With Williams on second and Jackson on first Young and Jennens struck out.

Worcester then scored the two sack roaches with a single. Scarborough reached first and Worcester second base by virtue of an error by third baseman Shaw. Wiley then hit a ball which was feld by the catcher who threw to first for the third out.

In their first time at bat the Cardinals scored enough runs to win the ball game with two errors and a lapse of memory, or reasoning. Stokes, centerfielder for the Cardinals, was first up and he singled through the box. Honeycutt fled out to centerfield. Craft singled. L. Bridges then hit a bouncer to Schottie, who looked the diamond over and then elected to throw to first base with the result that Jackson could not possibly make a put out, so Stokes scored. Craft perched at second and L. Bridges safe at first on Schottie's wild throw. Craft scored on Jennens' error. Shaw then reached first on a fielder's choice, with L. Bridges going to third. R. Bridges then drew a base on balls. Brooks doubled scoring three runs. G. Young struck out. Ingram hit scoring Brooks. Stokes up for the second time in the initial inning made his second consecutive hit. Ingram was out Jennens to Williams to Wiley.

In the first inning the Comets made a shake up of their line up when Schottie was sent to left field, Jackson assumed the mound duties and Stach Young brought in from left field to cover first base.

Well that was practically the ball game.

The Cardinals scored one run off Jackson's hurling when they bunched two hits and a fielder's choice in the third to put over one marker.

The Comets made an awful effort to tie or beat the score in the sixth but their effort fell short when they scored their last run of the game.

Thus the game ended with Jarrell 7 to 3 winner. The Cardinals garnered 12 hits to the Comets 8 and in the error column the Comets are charged with three miscues to the Cardinals 2. Resume: Comets won two; lost two.

CIRCUS ON PROGRAM AT SHORT COURSE

College Station, July 16.—One of the outstanding entertainment features of the annual farmers' short course this year will be the presentation of the famous Gainesville Community Circus of Gainesville, Texas, in a performance in Kyle field Stadium Monday night July 29, the opening day of the course.

The Gainesville Community Circus which is "the only show of its kind in the world," is unique in entertainment annals for its personnel of 150 is limited to citizens of the North Texas town none of them professional entertainers, who present a complete three-ring circus, which runs the gamut of big top thrills.

The circus will be presented in its entirety with 100 acts, which include two bareback riding troupes, two groups of tight wire artists, a score of dainty aerialists trained horses, dogs, ponies and mules, acrobats, tumblers, equilibrists, gymnasts and two score funny clowns.

The circus will come to college Station by rail and is being brought here at great expense.

Because of the uniqueness of this community enterprise and because its entertainment is so genuine and interesting the circus has been given wide publicity. Twice it has been photographed by Universal News, the American Magazine sent a staff writer from New York to prepare a special article on the institution, and scores of other articles and pictures have appeared in magazines and newspapers throughout the country.

Among the outstanding entertainers is Jerry Murrell, milliner by trade who is the show's most versatile performer. She has her own horseback troupe, dances on the tight-wire, works her beautiful white school horse, Sun D., supports the weight of a 200 pound man on her thighs as she does a split on the roman rings high in the air, and performs on the aerial ladder.

Another is little Miss Jimmie Scruggs, 12 the youngest loop-the-loop trapeze performer in the world, who also does a remarkable contortion act, being able to sit upon her own head, and the principal performer in a Shetland pony riding contest.

There are scores of other daredevil performers who in real life are engaged in the most prosaic small town vocations and professions and many of the town's most prominent citizens are members, including Frank Morris, Jr., bank president, who is snare drummer in the band; Judge B. F. Mitchell, former county judge, who is a clown; Mrs. J. Norman McArdle, First Methodist church choir soloist, who is a high school horse trainer; Roy P. Wilson, county superintendent of schools and others.

The circus has started its sixth season and has shown in towns and cities throughout the Southwest, including Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Ardmore and Sulphur, Okla., Denison, Sherman, Bonham, Denton, McKinney and others.

The performance here will be an unusual entertainment treat for the thousands of citizens of this section of the state who have never before been privileged to witness this remarkable show.

Here is a trio of outstanding performers in the Gainesville Community Circus which will exhibit in A. & M. College stadium Monday night, July 29, as a feature of the farmers' short course entertainers. Left to right, they are Jerry Murrell, bareback rider; Ben Saylor, principal clown; and Mabel Cunningham, aerial performer.

KNIGHTS WIN OVER BURLINGTON 13 TO 4

With the echo of the shut out handed them by the Burlington Cubs two weeks ago still ringing in their ears, the Cameron K. of C's journeyed to Burlington Sunday with a determination that spelled defeat for the Cubs from the very beginning. The game was a hit fest from the start and the 2 run lead gained in the first inning continued until it reached 13 runs.

Although the Cubs were outstanding at bat, they were unable to hit in the pinches. Over-ambition to stretch two baggers into triples was also disastrous.

Ladis Matula pitched nine innings for the knights allowing 12 hits and 4 runs. Little pitched five innings for the Cubs allowing 10 hits and 11 runs. Olbrich pitched the remaining four innings, allowing three hits and two runs.

Another outstanding feature of the game was the number of two base hits. The Cameron boys collected five two base hits and the Cubs collected four.

Next Sunday the K. of C's will play Ben Arnold at Cameron.

Is World Health Better?

Information gathered by the League of Nations seems to show that in 1934 the fifth year of depression, the death rate of the world declined and the population rate rose.

At first glance, this seems to indicate that hard times do not affect the health of the people as much as most of us thought. However, some authorities hold that the public is now reaping the benefit of many years of patient research and former years of good health. They seem to think that the figures ten years from now may reflect more accurately the deterioration of public health as a result of the depression.

Hospitals closed for lack of funds, a lower standard of living for the unemployed, and the general decline in the practice of physicians cannot be ignored, and inevitably will have had effect in the future.

Are Fabricated Houses Coming?

Speaking of the housing problem, Clyde L. Rogers, in the Annalist, calls attention to the fact that the average cost of a one family house increased from $2,173 in 1909 to $4,020 in 1934. In the same period average cost of automobiles declined from $1,662 to about $678.

Prefabricated houses are being talked about but the manufacturers seem inclined to feature expensive improvements, like air-conditioning, built in radios, electric refrigeration, etc., rather than low price.

Along this line Robert L. Davison, director of research of the John B. Pierce Foundation, estimates that the lower one-third in income of our population pays an average of $14 a month rent and therefore argues that the market that exists is for a dwelling and site to sell under $2,500.

Apparently, then the creation of houses in factories, to be erected and bolted together must depend upon the sale of large numbers and an organization able to reduce costs by mass production.

Teachers and Politics.

The million or more school teachers in the United States were urged to use their political powers to gain certain social benefits. The speaker was Dr. John K. Norton, of the Columbia University, and he drew considerable interest by his speech to the National Education Association at Denver.

"Political leaders should be brought to realize that teachers will not be satisfied with meaningless platitudes with which candidates for public office have claimed their votes," he said. "Teachers must demand to know the attitude of candidates toward child labor, development of social security, programs, the modes of tax systems, and similar issues which go to the roots of a candidate's social philosophy."

There is always a danger in urging a minority to form an aggressive unit in politics. The menace comes in the members of the particular group forgetting the high altruism and patriotism which may have caused them to unite for unselfish causes and perverting the purpose of the political power thus welded into a selfish effort to gain personally. It will be noticed that in Dr. Norton's statement above that no reference was made to the salaries of teachers—how long would a class conscious group, armed with political power, overlook the possibility of private gain?

Air Masses Cause Droughts.

Most of our readers are familiar with the new "air mass" forecasting now being used by the weather bureau. The theory is that huge masses of air sometimes two or three miles thick, and often a third the size of the United States, travel about and create our weather.

Recently G. R. Parkinson, meteorologist of a large air line explained the dust storms of the midwest by the behavior of two great masses, one from the North Pacific and the other from Northern Canada and Alaska. A shifting of the normal currents of these masses and the moist tropical air from the Gulf of Mexico stirred up the dust storms.

This theory may or may not be entirely accurate, but it at least illustrates the advance that is being made in the study of nature and its effect upon men. A decade or so ago few citizens gave any thought to the stratosphere, much less the air masses beneath it. As time goes on and the mind of man makes progress, human beings will learn many wonderful things, and some day, in the far distant future, may understand nature.

Mr. Patman's Charges.

The people of the United States are somewhat accustomed to the assertions of men in public office, and to some extent have a habit of discounting charges made by men whose pet projects have been defeated.

The above paragraph, however, hardly passes the recent allegation of Representative Wright Patman, of Texas, who made a serious charge against some members of the American Legion in a recent address.

Mr. Patman mentioned "sworn testimony" that $74,000 was carried to the Chicago Convention "and used to buy the influence of certain leaders . . . to get a so called inflation resolution through the Chicago Convention, having for the protection of Wall Street's and international bankers' interests."

Mr. Patman thinks that the next Legion Convention should ask for Congressional investigation of the charges.

The Herald knows nothing whatever in connection with the statements made by Mr. Patman, but it seems that some impartial body should make an investigation in order to settle the question conclusively.

What the Country Needs.

The United States Treasurer reports the receipt of a check for $67.00 from a man in Covington, Ky. It seems that the Kentuckian was a work relief beneficiary in 1933. He now pays the government $67.00 and says he will send the balance, $40.00 in a few months.

What this country needs today is a few million citizens like this man in Kentucky.

Here's How!

We are really intrigued at the adroit action of the National Education Association. Recently it recognized the power of the Federal government by asking 500 million dollars of federal aid for the normal education of the youth of the country.

Moreover it paid proper deference to states' rights by insisting that educational policies be left under state and local control.

Thanks to its absence of moving parts, Electrolux is permanently silent and saves on repairs too! For parts that do not move cannot cause noise or wear!

Modern living at its finest!

You'll be proud to have this beautiful Electrolux in your kitchen. American women themselves created its smart new design! THE HERALD

Louisa's Letter

SHOULD SHE MARRY?—A HUSBAND OBJECTS

Dear Louisa:

I am in my thirties, a widow, and have two dear children. My husband died five years ago and since that time I have worked and supported the children and tried to make a home for them.

Now a fine man has asked me to marry him and promises to care for these children as he would his own. The children oppose it because it would mean sharing my affection with some one else, but I have tried to show them that they will really be with me more as I will not have to be away from them at work as I have been for these past five years. Don't you think it would be foolish of me to give up this man because of the children's objections?

L. M. B.

If the man is a fine man, as you say, and you feel that he really will be good to your children and you are in love with him, then I think you would be foolish to give him up.

It is a very hard job to take a father's and mother's part towards children and if this man will care for their material needs you will certainly ly have more time to devote to their personal welfare. You are young yet and before many years your children will be away at school or married and then you will be alone. It is nice to think that, at such a time, you will have a companion, instead of being alone or dependent upon your children with their new interests.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:

My husband objects to my showing any attention to other men but he is a perfect young Lochinvar when it comes to other women. He says he is only being polite but when another man acts the same way towards me he thinks it is foolish and disgusting.

JANE T.

Jealously is such a foolish waste of time. Why can't wives and husbands treat other men and women in a friendly, courteous manner without raising a family row? We want other people to like our children and praise their manners, why shouldn't we be just proud of our mates?

But what I can't understand is why one party wishes to behave a certain way but objects to his wife or husband doing the same. That does look a little suspicious, as if his courtesy were not as innocent as he pretends. You know the old adage of "It takes a thief to catch a thief." Well if one ascribes certain motives to other people whose behavior resembles their own, the same thing must be in their own mind.

LOUISA.

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

HENRY- Lesson RADCLIFFE

THE PROPHET OF JUSTICE

International Sunday School Lesson for July 28, 1935.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream." Amos 5:24.

(Lesson Text: Amos 7:7-17)

We suggest that every reader of this column turn to the Book of Amos and read it carefully. It is very short and there are so many utterances of this ancient prophet which apply with full effectiveness to the political, social and religious life of today. Spoken in regard to customs and practices of another day, these courageous denunciations of iniquity and injustice can be very readily applied to our own twentieth century life.

One of our four grand divisions of the Bible is that of the prophetic writings consisting of the four major and twelve minor prophets. This classification applies to the length rather than the importance of the message contained in the books. Amos is the most ancient of these prophetic writings. It emphasizes four points namely, first the evil of Israel at the time; second, the righteousness and indignation of Jehovah; third, the certainty of judgment and punishment without repentance; and, fourth, that Assyria would be the agency of this chastisement.

Amos has been very properly termed an "inspired farmer." He was a herdsman, in charge of sheep and a dresser of sycamore trees, which produced an inferior fig. He was a product of simple living and honest thinking and he became a champion of these two desirable characteristics. While his written message which has been left to us is very brief, Amos ranks as one of the four great prophets of the Hebrew people.

Amos was under no doubt of his divine mission. As he said "Jehovah took me," and he willingly abandoned his life and followed the impulses of the divine law which likewise has driven other men to accomplish great tasks. As Jesus said on one occasion, if his disciples did not testify, "the very stones would cry out." So Paul realized his compulsion, "Woe is unto me if I preach not." Subsequently, Luther proclaimed his conviction that "I can do no other."

Great prophets were all of these men, for the word prophet originally, carried the significance of one who proclaimed the truths of God rather than foretold events. Amos was a pioneer reformer, denouncing the fashionable abuses of his day, but preaching an unpopular and unpleasant doctrine to those who were blissfully at peace and content with their unreal and unfit lives.

Although Amos was a resident of Judah, his mission was to preach to Israel, for with time had come the division of the kingdoms. Uzziah, a very able ruler, governed the lower kingdom, while the second Jeroboam ruled in the North. Both of these reigns were apparently successful. Jeroboam having been successful in military campaigns in the upbuilding of trade and bringing outward prosperity and security to his country. However, there were evils underneath and Amos criticised the false ideas of worship and the prevalence of social injustice which existed.

The people were forgetful of Jehovah's requirements of righteousness, they were contented with an outward conformity to the forms and ceremonies of worship, and had allowed their religious practices to be contaminated by following the immoral and wicked habits of pagans. Socially, it was a day of wealth and splendor but Amos realized the vice and corruption that lay beneath the surface, he saw the dangers which accompany indulgence and ease, and recognized the fundamental wickedness which allowed the oppression of the poor and needy to go unchecked.

While the people had gathered for a great festival at the sanctuary of Bethel, Amos delivered one of his messages of doom, predicting the punishment of various nations including Israel, for transgressions. Amaziah, the priest, rebuked the prophet for speaking blasphemy and sedition, which, by the way, were the same charges made against Jesus centuries later. The priest suggested that Amos abandon his mission and take the easier course of condemning Israel in Judah, which Amos repudiated by proclaiming the divine compulsion under which he acted.

The Book of Amos is well worth reading today. Some of the expressions have passed into the general literature of the world for example, "They have sold the righteous for silver and the needy for a pair of shoes." "Shall two walk together, except they have agreed?" "Let justice roll down as waters and righteousness as a mighty stream." Make the epaph small and the shekel great." Although twenty-six centuries have passed since the day of this outspoken preacher of righteousness human nature hasn't changed so very much, therefore, the modern world can well apply to itself the message of divine revelation which Amos brought to ancient Israel.

Summary: 2BH: Jackson, Smith, Schattle, Buckley 2; Sacrifice Hits: Thompson, Morris; Struck out by Schattle 2, Moon 8; BOB Schattle 1, Moon 0; Date July 7th; Played at Cameron; Umpires Hall and Arnold; Scorer Thompson.

The Comets lost their first game in this half of the Cen-Tex race to the Temple Soil Surgeons at Cameron Sunday July 7 by a score of 4 to 1.

Lefty Moon, of Aggie fame, pitched for the Surgeons, allowing the Comets 7 hits and striking out 8 men. Farrow was the Surgeons' catcher.

Schattle held the mound for the Comets for the third time in a week. The Surgeons got 12 hits off him, 3 of which were doubles all made by Manager Buckley of the Surgeons, which is a good pattern for any manager to set for his team. Craft also got four singles off Schattle. (We don't know if these two fellows were genuine hitters or held a "hoo-doo" on Schattle). The other hits were singled out among other members of the team. Jenness was the Comet catcher.

Cameron's score was made in the third inning when Boots Smith laid the timber on one of Moon's "slow balls" for two bases. He went to third on a pass ball and was brought in by a squeeze play put on by Thompson.

The Comets threatened to score again in the fifth inning when Schattle hit a two bagger with Smith on first bringing Smith around to third base. Thompson again attempted his sacrifice. However the play was foiled and Smith was put out at third.

Make Snow Balls In Yellowstone On Trip Through West

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Marek, Miss Billie Marek and Miss Agnes Macal, have returned to Cameron from a record 8 day trip to the west, going in their new Master Chevrolet.

They left Cameron on July 3. While Cameron was sweltering in the heat of 105 degrees they were making snowballs in the altitudes of the Yellowstone Park.

They toured in Colorado and passed through the Yellowstone Park in Wyoming, going through New Mexico as well.

Along the highways of the Yellowstone snow was 25 feet deep in many places and was being shoveled from the roads to permit cars to pass. Wool blankets were comfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. Marek are pleased with their new Chevrolet having driven it 4800 miles on the trip or an average of 600 miles each day.

The Herald editor was glad to get a piece of obsidian for the museum from the Yellowstone and also a block of asphalt used widely in the west for highways.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Religious services were conducted at the home by Rev. J. Coy Williams, pastor of the First Methodist church, Cameron, and former pastor of the Rockdale church. Interment followed in the L. O. O. F. cemetery.

Active pall bearers were Messrs. H. H. Turner, Ed Prewett, Otto Schukraft, Ed Henke, B. Regenbrecht, Will Schukraft, Louis Zimmer and Clyde Franklin. Otto Lengert was one of Rockdale's oldest citizens. His parents came to Milam County from Germany when he was only seven years old, and settled on a farm just south of town. As a very young man he moved to Rockdale and entered into business activities. For more than forty years he was identified with the hardware and implement trade in this city, first with the old firm of Hamblen & Porter, then with J. W. Hamblen and when the firm of Henne & Meyer Co. was organized in 1896 Mr. Lengert went with that firm and remained with them for 34 years, or until the firm was dissolved in 1930.

FUNDS ASKED FOR COUNTY HEALTH NURSE

Members of the Milam County Child Welfare Board and citizens interested in promoting public health are awaiting with renewed confidence a report on the county budget made up in July by the Commissioners' Court for the next fiscal year.

In May, members of the board appeared before the Commissioners to request members of the Court to include an appropriation in the budget to pay a full time county health nurse.

A fund of $550 to supplement any appropriation for this purpose is in the treasury of the County Health Council, and additional funds are available upon application for state aid.

The movement is endorsed by the county superintendent of schools, Guy T. Newton, members of the County Health Council and other organizations affiliated with the churches and schools.

A county health nurse, trained in modern methods, would be a great advantage to town and rural citizens alike and favorable consideration of this project sponsored by the Child Welfare Board is being urged for the ultimate success of its plans.
